COMPANY DESCRIPTION

SABEResPODER™ (SEP), based in Los Angeles, CA with offices in Berkeley, CA, San Antonio, TX, and New York, NY, is a venture-backed early stage Spanish language multimedia company running an independent network of touch points across the United States. SABEResPODER is an innovator in education and digital media, best known for its presence in trusted community locations, such as Latin American Consulates and Community Clinics, where an engaged audience spends multiple hours interacting with the SABEResPODER Empowerment Network. Our national platform – which consists of digital closed circuit televisions, print educational guides, community events, and a mobile platform – reaches over 8 million Spanish-speaking consumers every year.

MEDIA WITH A MISSION

Our goal is to empower consumers to become more informed, confident, and active participants in U.S. society, and to enable brands to develop trust and build generational brand loyalty through relevant consumer-focused and solutions-driven campaigns.

JOB DESCRIPTION

Summary

As Vice President of Operations you will be reporting directly to the CEO. In your role, you will direct the operations of SABEResPODER's educational campaigns by managing sales, account services, and business development teams. You will play an active role in directing the implementation of operations as well as the creation of new platforms that SABEResPODER will be developing including website and mobile. Ideal candidates could have a variety of backgrounds. Possible backgrounds include consulting, investment banking, project management, sales, accounting, legal, and corporate / business development. This role will also provide an excellent opportunity to be part of an early stage VC-backed company and develop the skillset of directing operations in an entrepreneurial environment.
